Offer valid	Founding Partner spots are limited to the first 50 restaurants approved

1. Executive summary

Every restaurant ends up with good food it can't sell: a wrong order, a delivery that never got picked up, the last trays at closing time. Today most of it goes in the bin, along with the money you spent making it. ResDish is a local marketplace where restaurants in greater Seattle post that surplus food at a discount and nearby customers buy it and pick it up, usually within the hour.

We are inviting your restaurant to join as a partner. In short:

- Recover revenue from food you have already paid to make.
- Reach new customers who discover your restaurant through a great deal and come back at full price.
- Keep 100% of your food sales. ResDish charges no commission. Customers pay a small service fee on top.
- Simple pricing: $15 a month, or $150 a year (save $30). The first 50 restaurants approved pay nothing — ever.
- Ready in a day: sign up online, we approve you (usually within one business day), and your counter kiosk is ready on any tablet.

🌱 Founding Partner offer

The first 50 restaurants approved on ResDish become Founding Partners and use the platform free for as long as they remain partners — no subscription fee, no card required, every feature included. Spots are assigned automatically, in order of approval.

Everything included

For your kitchen	For your business
✓ Unlimited offers and menu items	✓ Payouts at every pickup via Stripe Connect
✓ Discard timers with one-tap extend	✓ Daily and historical reports (PDF, CSV)
✓ Photos, dietary tags and allergen notes	✓ Invoice number on every payout
✓ Live order bell (dashboard and kiosk)	✓ Electronically signed partner agreement

2. The opportunity

Surplus is a normal part of running a kitchen. Orders get made wrong, delivery drivers cancel, customers don't show up, and demand is never perfectly predictable. Each of those meals has already cost you ingredients and labour. Throwing them away turns that cost into a total loss — and it is food that someone nearby would happily buy.

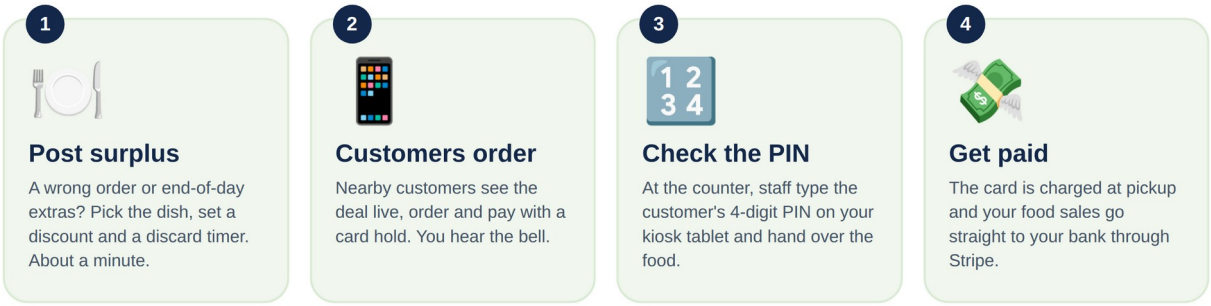

At the same time, many people in the city are looking for good restaurant food at a lower price, and like the idea of rescuing food rather than wasting it. ResDish connects the two, in real time and close to home.

What changes for your restaurant

	Without ResDish	With ResDish
Wrong or unclaimed orders	Thrown away; full loss	Sold at a discount within the hour
End-of-day surplus	Discarded at closing	Listed with a discard timer; sold before close
New customers	Paid advertising	Customers find you through a deal, then return
Cost	—	$0 (Founding) · $15/month · $150/year; no commission

How it works

Four steps, from a tray of extra food to money in your bank account:

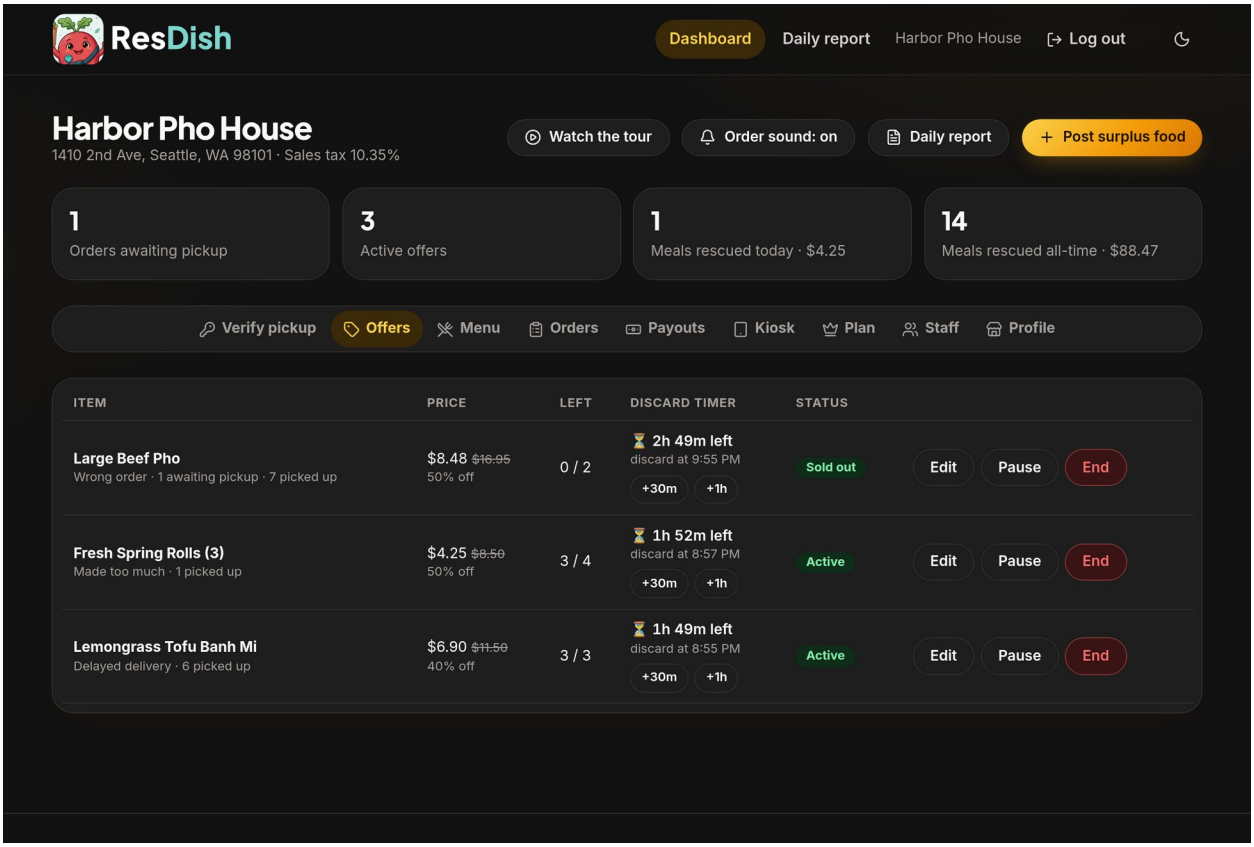

3. What you get

Every plan includes the complete ResDish toolkit. There are no add-ons and no per-order fees for restaurants.

Restaurant dashboard

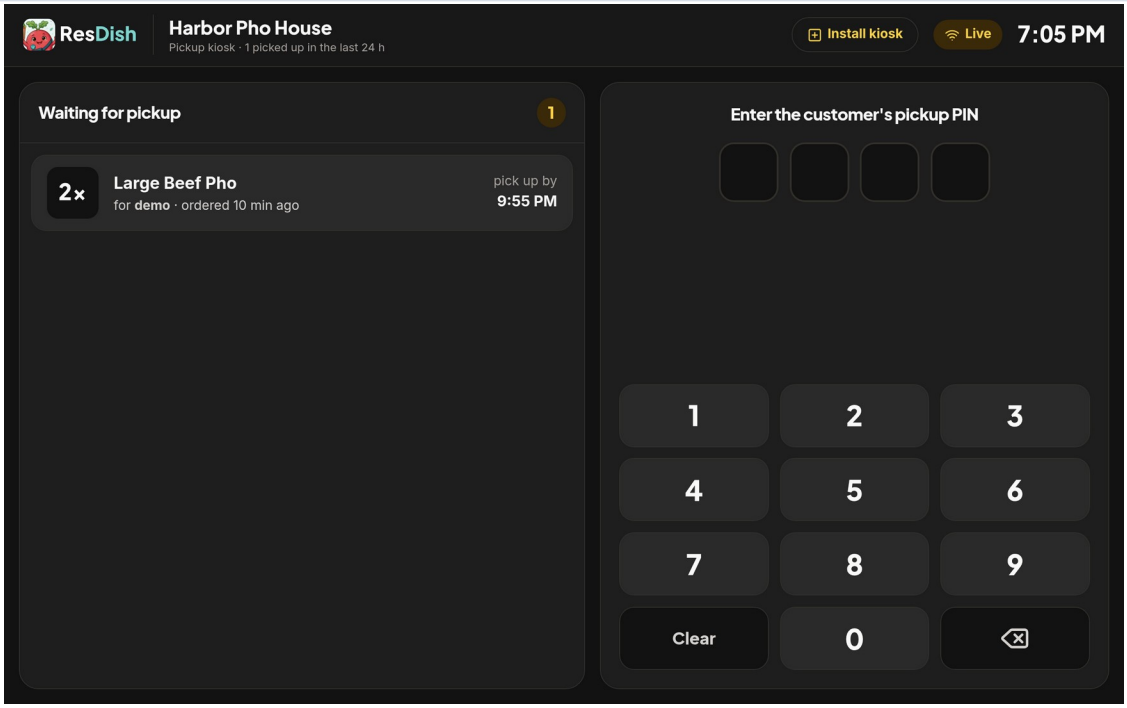

Post a surplus dish in about a minute: choose it from your menu, set the discount and how long it stays safe to sell (the discard timer). Pause, extend or end an offer at any time. A bell rings for every new order, and daily reports show meals rescued, sales, discounts and taxes, with PDF and CSV export.

The restaurant dashboard: live offers with their discard timers, orders waiting for pickup and today's results.

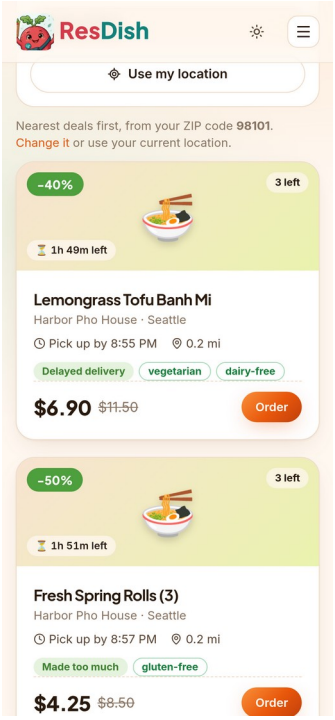

Counter kiosk for your tablet

Every approved restaurant gets its own private kiosk link. Open it on any Android tablet or iPad at the counter and add it to the home screen: it runs full-screen like an app. New orders appear with a bell; staff type the customer's 4-digit pickup PIN, check the order, and hand it over. The customer's card is charged at that moment. No staff logins or passwords are needed.

The counter kiosk: orders waiting for pickup on the left, the PIN pad on the right.

What your customers see

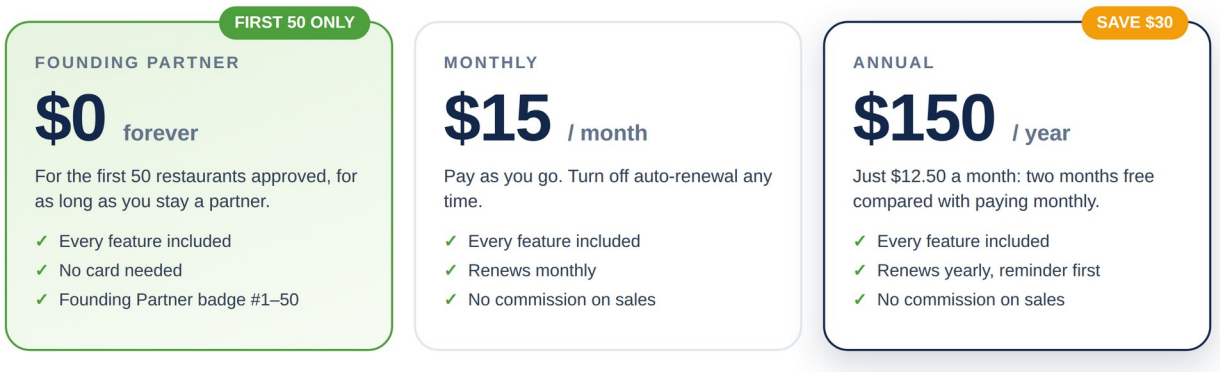

Deals near you, on any phone.

Customers browse live deals on a list or a map, filtered by distance, diet and cuisine. Each listing shows your restaurant's name, the dish, the original and discounted price, how many are left, and the pickup deadline.

- Card hold, not a charge: the customer's card is only charged when your staff confirm the pickup PIN.
- Pickup PIN: every order has its own 4-digit PIN, so the right food goes to the right person.
- No-shows are released automatically after the discard timer, without charging the customer.
- Real people only: sign-up refuses disposable and fake email addresses, and abusive accounts can be suspended or permanently banned.

4. Plans and pricing

One simple fee — and no commission on your food sales, ever. You receive the full discounted price of every meal you sell; the customer pays a separate ResDish service fee on top.

	Founding Partner	Monthly	Annual
Price	$0	$15 per month	$150 per year
Who it is for	The first 50 restaurants approved	Any approved restaurant	Any approved restaurant
Saving	Free for life	—	$30 a year vs. monthly ($12.50/month)
Payment	None; no card needed	Card on file, charged monthly in advance	Card on file, charged yearly in advance
Auto-renewal	Nothing to renew	On by default; turn off any time	On by default; reminder emailed a week before
Commission on sales	None	None	None

Auto-renewal, in plain words

- Paid in advance. Your first month or year is charged when you choose a plan, and your offers can go live straight away.
- Renews automatically at the end of each period, charged to your default card on file, so your listings never stop unexpectedly. You get an emailed receipt with an invoice number every time.
- You stay in control. Turn auto-renewal off at any time from the Plan tab of your dashboard; your plan then simply ends on the last day you have paid for. Keep as many cards on file as you like and choose your default, or switch between monthly and annual from your next renewal.

- Annual reminder. Annual plans receive an email reminder about a week before they renew.
- If a payment is declined, your plan becomes delinquent straight away: your offers are paused and you can't post until a payment goes through. We email you and retry your default card automatically, and you can pay at any time from the Plan tab with any card.
- Price changes are announced at least 30 days in advance and only apply from your next renewal.

What a partnership can be worth

An illustrative example (your numbers will differ):

Assumption	Example
Surplus meals sold per day	5
Average discounted price per meal	$8.00
Days open per month	30
Food sales recovered per month (paid to you in full)	$1,200
ResDish plan	$15 / month (or $0 as a Founding Partner)
Net recovered per month	≈ $1,185 – $1,200

Figures are for illustration only and are not a forecast or guarantee of sales.

5. Getting started

Joining takes a few minutes online. Here is what happens:

1. Sign up at bite-wise.org with your restaurant details, and accept the Restaurant Partner Agreement electronically.
2. Confirm your email. We send a confirmation link; once confirmed, you receive an "application received" email.
3. Approval. Our team reviews your application, usually within one business day. Meanwhile you can set up your menu and photos.
4. Welcome pack. On approval you receive your welcome email with your electronically signed agreement (PDF), your private kiosk link with Android and iPad buttons, and your plan: Founding Partner if a spot is still open, otherwise a choice of monthly or annual.

5. Set up the counter tablet. Open the kiosk link on the tablet and add it to the home screen (one tap on Android; Share → Add to Home Screen on iPad).
6. Connect payouts. Link your bank account through Stripe in the Payouts tab, so you are paid at every pickup.
7. Post your first surplus dish — and listen for the bell.

Our commitment to you

- Fair, transparent fees: one subscription, no commission, no hidden charges.
- Fast payouts: your share is transferred through Stripe when the customer picks up, with an invoice number for every payout.
- Customer support: we handle customer questions, refunds and platform credit. Credit we give customers is funded by ResDish — you are still paid in full.
- A safe marketplace: PIN-verified pickups, card holds, real-email sign-ups, and the ability to suspend or permanently ban anyone who abuses the platform.

What we ask of partners

- Only list food that is safe to eat throughout its discard timer, prepared and held in line with the Washington Food Code.
- Describe items accurately, including allergens, and use your genuine regular price as the original price.
- Always verify the customer's PIN before handing over food.
- Keep your Stripe account and business licences in good standing.

Partners who break these rules may be suspended for a set number of days or, for serious or repeated issues, permanently removed. The full terms are in the Restaurant Partner Agreement.

6. Frequently asked questions

Do you take a percentage of my sales?

No. You receive the full discounted price of every meal. ResDish earns a service fee paid by the customer, plus the subscription for restaurants that are not Founding Partners.

How do I become a Founding Partner?

Simply sign up. The first 50 restaurants approved are given a Founding Partner spot automatically, and keep it for as long as they remain a partner. No card is needed.

Can I cancel?

Yes. Turn off auto-renewal in the Plan tab at any time; your plan ends at the end of the period you have paid for. Either party may also end the agreement with 14 days' notice.

What equipment do I need?

Any Android tablet or iPad with a web browser for the counter kiosk — or simply the dashboard on a computer or phone. No special hardware or installation.

What if a customer doesn't show up?

The order is released automatically after the discard timer and the customer's card is not charged. You decide whether the food can still be sold.

When do I get paid?

When your staff confirm the pickup PIN, the customer is charged and your share is transferred to your Stripe account, which pays out to your bank on your Stripe schedule.

Who handles complaints and refunds?

ResDish. We share complaints with you before deciding. If we refund as platform credit, ResDish pays for it and you keep your full payment.
